You're invited to attend...
Winter 2025 Immersion
at Millikin University.

In this catalog you will find a wide range of courses and flexible meeting times.

We've designed our course offerings to fit the needs of

- Current Millikin Students
- Students attending other universities who want to earn credits while home for break
- High School Students wanting to gain credits in escrow

We discounted tuition for our Winter 2025 Immersion courses and made it easy for you to enroll. You can register any one of the following ways:

- Online: <http://www.millikin.edu/immersion>
- Phone: 217.424.6217
- In-person: Registrar's Office--Gorin Hall, Room 16.

You can find the registration form in the back of the class listings or online (see above link).

This winter we are offering several ONLINE courses to make it easy for students not in the central Illinois area to have access to top-quality Millikin education.

immersion term begins (see course descriptions for actual start and end dates for classes).

This bulletin contains a list of courses planned for Winter immersion. Students should be aware that most of these courses have enrollment limits and thus, seats may be limited. It is also possible that some courses will be canceled due to low enrollment. Therefore, students should include alternates on the Registration Form.

Priority in registration for oversubscribed courses is given to degree candidates at Millikin University.

In addition to the scheduled courses in this bulletin, a limited number of Millikin faculty are available for internship/independent study/directed study courses during the Winter immersion term.

One academic credit is given for every 40 hours of internship, and every internship must be approved through the appropriate department. The internship, independent study, and directed study fees are set at _____ plus a $22 per credit hour university fee. Credit will NOT be granted for experiences prior to registration for the internship. No internship registration will be accepted after January 3, 2025.

To receive academic credit for internship/independent study/directed study courses, students must complete their registration at the University. A Millikin faculty member serves as a supervisor and, generally, a plan for the internship/independent study/directed study is discussed well in advance. The student and faculty supervisor shall complete the approved individual study contract form available from the Registrar. This form and the required paperwork must be filed with the Registrar _____ for the Winter immersion term. In most areas, it is the student's responsibility to arrange the details of the internship.

Faculty/staff tuition waivers do not apply to internship/independent study/directed study courses.
